M6 TOLL ROAD JP FOR SALE

By Simon Penfold

THE M6 Toll is being put up for sale by the banks that own it in a bid to get back the £1.9 billion they are owed.

They believe that the improving performance of the UK's only private motorway could make it a good time to sell. The move could put national-to sell. The move could put nationalisation of the road back on the table. In its last set of financial figures, for 2014, operating company Midland Expressway Ltd cut its losses to £28.6 million, from £32.5m the year before. And traffic numbers have been improving. This has been put down to the UK's improving economy, as well as drivers looking for an alternative to the roadworks and heavy traffic clogging the M6 through the region. The toll road, which charges cars £5.50 and lorries up to £11, has never reached the 75,000 vehicles a day predicted when it was opened in 2003. But the daily average has now risen to nearly 48,000 a day, with 17.4 million vehicles using the road in 2015.

5.5 per cent n 2013. And the owners expect to see an even bigger increase for 2015.

The road has been owned by a consortium of 27 lenders, including French bank Credit Agricole, German group Commerzbank and Portugal's Novo Banco, since a major debt restructuring move in 2013. It saw them take over ownership from Macquarie, the Australian group that built the road. The banks now pay Macquarie a fee to run the road through its Midland Expressway company.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has called the sale of the M6 Toll a 'once in a generation opportunity' and urged the Government to take the road into public ownership. Meanwhile, business leaders have urged any future owners to ensure that it becomes an integral part of the UK's motorway network to ease congestion believed to be costing West Midlands firms more than £2.2bn a year. Paul Faulkner, chief executive of Greater Birmingham Chambers of Commerce, which also covers the Cannock Chase and Lichfield areas, said: "We call on any new owners and the regulators to ensure it is properly integrated into the motorway network in order to do the iob it was

"We call on any new owners and the regula-tors to ensure it is properly integrated into the motorway network in order to do the job it was intended for – relieving pressure on the M6." And the West Midlands Combined Authority is looking into the possibility of taking over the running of the road but admits it needs govern-ment support to get the project off the ground.

BRAVE CARINA BOXING CLEVER FOR CHARITY

Carina Jenkins, from Rugeley, gets into training at Legends Gym ahead of her fight debut at the Pink Collar Boxing event

A BRAVE mother from Rugeley is preparing to enter her first ever boxing match.

Carina Jenkins, aged 33, will be fighting at Bar Sport in Cannock later this month after eight weeks of gruelling training. She is fighting as part of Pink Collar Boxing campaign to raise money for charity organisa-tion the Olive Circle Foundation and Children with Cancer.

Carina, who has two children, has been training five times a week for the fight on February 27.

Asked about her training and how she got into the programme, she said: "It was on New Year's Day and it came up on my Facebook page. I had decided as a New Year's resolution to pick a charity this year and raise some money for it, so it was great timing.

"I then had an email, paid my £10 and signed up. They require you to train two times a week at Extreme gym (in Norton Canes) but I do a lot of my personal training at Legends gym in Rugeley which is my local.

Energy

"I probably train on average about five times a week. It has changed me all over. "I have really enjoyed it, it's been a really

ood experience

"I'm just so full of energy now. I feel so much better in myself as well. "I got matched the other night but I don't know who I have got. I'm nervous but at the same time I have been training a lot.

"I've also been training with the organisers

"I've also been training with the organisers and she's been great at giving me support.
"The event raises money for the Olive Circle but my chosen charity is Children with Cancer. I have raised so far about £200.
"I already have been telling people to get involved and sign up. They do White Collar boxing for men as well."
Carina's fight, along with nine others, is at Premier Suite Cannock, above Bar Sport.

Tickets cost £25.

Anyone interested in sponsoring Carina and donating to Children with Cancer can find her fundraising page on Justgiving.hg

purse theft gangs stalk supermarkets

THIEVES have been preying on supermarket shoppers in Cannock and Rugeley, prompting a police warning.

Customers had their purses stolen at Morrisons, Aldi and Asda in Cannock on February 5 and 6. Another theft happened at the Tesco supermarket in Rugeley on February 6.

In each of the six cases the suspects were described as being of Eastern European origin and were captured on CCTV walking around the shops targeting elderly people.

They typically looked for people with bags on display, distracting the victims initially before snatching the purse.

In a similar theft an elderly person was targeted at the cash machine outside Lloyds Bank in Cannock on Wednesday, February 3. Again the man was distracted and only realised money had been stolen later on.

Staffordshire Police spokeswoman Deana Pritchard said: "Local Police Teams will be offering reassurance within the town centres and working with store security to try and disrupt

Councillors agree to join action group on dementia

COUNCILLORS in Cannock Chase have agreed to become a member of the Staffordshire Dementia Action Alliance.

The recommendation was approved

The recommendation was approved by Cannock Chase Council's cabinet and will build on the work already undertaken to become a dementia friendly organisation.

Dementia Friendly societies are part of a national initiative originating from the Prime Minister's Dementia Challenge in 2012. The development is supported by the Dementia Action Alliance which aims to raise awareness of dementia, reduce stigma and also try to reduce the loneliness and isolation experienced by both people

LESS than one per cent of people in Staffordshire are claiming Job Seek-ers Allowance, new figures show.

Some 3,877 people aged between 16 and 64 in the country are claiming the benefit. These 3,877 equate to 0.7 per cent, compared with the West Midlands where nearly two per cent of the region are claiming.

Across the whole of the UK the average is 1.5 per cent – more than double that of Staffordshire.

The figures are part of a report prepared for meeting of the full county council last week.

Council leader Philip Atkins said in the report: "Staffordshire continues to perform well in terms of the per-centage of the working age population claiming Job Seekers Allowance."

Mystery remains unsolved

FEBRUARY is traditionally the month when members organise the running of the meeting.

This year the entertainment was a murder mystery called False Alarm.

The play was enacted with style and, as well as raising some laughs, mystified the audience who racked their brains during the interval trying to solve the murder and find the culprit.

in South Staffordshire.

A consultation is taking place on three proposals for the road which would create access to the former Royal Ordnance Factory in Featherstone. The old factory has been earmarked as employment land.

However, concerns have been raised that some of the proposals would see a negative impact on green belt land.

Options A and P would see the link.

Options A and B would see the link road off the Cannock Road and join Cat and Kittens Lane, while option C would be near the Stafford Road.

Wolverhampton councillor Daniel Warren, who represents Bushbury

North and some of whose constituents' homes border the site, said: "The road would cut across the fields south of Moseley Old Hall to create a link between Cat and Kittens Lane and the A460. This would be a single-carriageway road suitable for two-way lorry traffic

"South Staffs Council believe the ROF site would be perfect for a freight distribution centre which would could mean lorries driving up and down local roads 24 hours a day.

"We are very concerned that Options A and B, which encroach on green belt land, would permanently damage the local environment and surroundings and result in even more traffic along

Redundancy Online business nets coveted title payments by councils total £50m

COUNCILS across the Black Country and Staffordshire have spent almost £50 million on redundancy payments to staff in the last five years, new figures reveal.

A Freedom of Information (FOI) request shows that Staffordshire County Council has shelled out almost £30m in redundancy payments since 2010/11.

Dudley Council has paid out more than £21m, Wol-verhampton Council spent more than £13m, while Walsall Council coughed up £5,947,094.

Across the Black Country's four authorities 5,391 staff were either made redundant or took voluntary redundancy in that time.

Frankie Valli. He has a stunning range and one can see him putting all his effort into hitting those high notes. He will reprise the role in the West End from March 15 as the musical celebrates its eighth year in London, now at the Piccadilly Theatre.

The harmonies between all bandmates (Sam Ferriday as Gaudio, Lewis Griffiths as Nick Massi and Stephen Webb as Tommy DeVito) were terrific, while the rest of the team could also not be faulted. They are one of music's most charismatic, enigmatic one of music's most charismatic, enigmatic groups and theirs is a story that will never be tired of being told.

Jobs boost Students draw on Captain's strength as service station in revamp bid

ROADCHEF has revealed plans for a £4 million revamp of its M6 Toll service station which will create more than 150 jobs

The proposal will see the building at the Norton Canes site almost double in size to accommodate a new restaurant and shops. Roadchef estimates that the scheme will create around 160 posts.

Norton Canes ward councillor Mike Hoare said: "I like the idea of something which brings extra jobs to the area." Roadchef says the said: "Encouragin investment is to compete with the likes of Moto and Welcome Break as well as meet government requirements to encourage drivers the festive period, which turned out to be its busiest for the firm ever.

The company, which has its main sorting hub on the Kingswood Business Park, processed more than 2.5 million parcels during December. The company hit its busiest ever week betweenDecember 12 and December 18, processing almost 800,000 parcels. Its busiest night saw a 25 per cent increase on the previous year, with a five per cent increase for December as a whole.

The surge in deliveries has been put down to the increasing demand from small firms selling online. The milestone followed a period of growth for the business, which led to the recruitment of an extra 100 permanent staff. manent staff.

Many of the people who secured new jobs at APC Overnight had been laid off in the collapse of the City Link delivery company the previous Christmas. The company said the key to its continued success has been the growth in small and medium sized independent businesses across the UK, which are its main customers. are its main customers.

are its main customers.

Chief executive Jonathan Smith said: "I am incredibly proud of the team we have here at our central distribution centre who work throughout the night in order to make sure parcels are delivered on time. This achievement is a real collaborative effort and is also testament to our strong network of individually owned depots nationwide."

APC is owned and run by a string of independent local delivery businesses running 115 depots around the country.

It now employs around 500 people at Cannock, where it has also invested heavily in new parcel-handling equipment. Its most recent financial figures, for the 12 months to the end of March 2015, revealed an 11.5 per cent rise in turnover to £98.8 million.

Plan ahead plea on funeral by new cemetery owners

THE new owners of a Burntwood burial park are encouraging residents to plan ahead to help them avoid spiralling costs.

Aspire Memoria took over the running of the Chase & District Memorial Park

Founded by two of the running of the Chase & District Memorial Park from Springhill Cemetery Group.

Founded by two of the region's most prominent entrepreneurs, business partners John Connell and Surekha Chouhan, Aspire Memoria bought the Memorial Park for an undisclosed sum. It aims to raise awareness of the continually inflating cost of burial in the West Midlands and provide an alternative to local

According to Aspire Memoria's directors, private cemeteries are a necessity because local authorities do not have capacity to increase burial space. As a result, prices for remaining vacant plots are rising at up to 10 times the rate of inflation per year. At Streetly cemetery, for example, run by Walsall Council, it costs almost £3,000 to be interred, says Aspire Memoria.
"An ageing population has fuelled an explosion in the funeral plan industry," said co-director Surekha Chouhan.

"People are often unaware that the cost of a burial plot is generally not included in these plans, which is usually the largest proportion of the funeral fees.
"These have been going up every year since 1975 but with no Government mandated cap in sight, it's effectively a stealth tax on dying," she added.
While cremation is still more popular than burial, with a ratio of seven in every 10, it's forbidden for people of Muslim faith. Kamran Saleem, Chase and District Memorial Park's site manager, said: "Islamic law decrees that Muslims must be buried as soon as possible after death.

But the initial conversation started on ground many fans neglect to remember about Floyd Jnr – his poor and violent upbringing. "I have never really talked about the adversity I went through to get to this point," Mayweather said.
"My mom was on drugs, my dad got shot, he used me as a shield because he knew his brother wouldn't shoot if I was in his arms." Sadly, insight into that character shoning.

brother wouldn't shoot if I was in his arms." Sadly, insight into that character-shaping part of his life was kept all-too brief.

When asked by Woodhall if it was this that drove him to his quest for riches he replied: "I wanted to put my family in a great position. I want the best education for my children, I want them to go to the best schools and I want them to surpass me." At no point was the former champ on the ropes and it was a solid hour-long insight into the more human side of Mayweather. That said, the boxing legend was truly stumped when the microphone was handed to a young boy who stood atop a chair and stumped when the micropione was handed to a young boy who stood atop a chair and asked: "What is your favourite car?" Mayweather smiled, tilted his head thoughtfully and said: "I don't really know. I don't really have a favourite. I like my jet best."

It was on Sunday, October 19, 2014, that then Sgt

King had been called to a property at Wat Tyler Close, Rugeley after concerns were raised about the welfare of mental health patient Matthew Tearle. He said: "It was a callout

In recognition of his ef-forts, Mr King will collect a High Sheriff of Stafford-shire honour along with former colleagues Inspector Kevin Mulligan, Pc Steven Davenport and Special Con-stable Sydney Cooper.

County council to benefit from £5.5m funding

LOCAL government will receive £300 million to ease funding cuts to central government grants – with Tory-run Staffordshire County Council to receive an additional £5.5m over two years. However, cash-strapped authorities in the Black Country won't get a penny. Communities secretary Greg Clark has announced a £150m support scheme for councils in each of the next two years.

But none of the four local authorities in the Black Country will receive any of the transitional money.

The announcement came after the conclusion of the consultation on the provisional Local Government Financial Settlement. Critics say the new relief fund will overwhelmingly help Conservative areas, including the Prime Minis-ter's own Oxfordshire Coun-cil which is set to get £9m. Wolverhampton Coun-cil's finance chief, Councillor Andrew Johnson, said:

"Richer areas in the south east, mainly Tory councils
I might add, have had fewer cuts yet some of them are getting extra money."

Walsall Council leader
Mike Bird said: "The constant cuts mean this council and others like us will have to stop doing the things peo-ple expect from us."

Bard puts spring in step for ballet

THIS spring's 400th anniversary of the death of William Shakespeare has inspired Birmingham Royal Ballet's spring season in the Company's home city.

Last seen on the Birmingham Hippodrome stage with their sumptuous annual festive treat The Nutcracker, BRB return with a programme of three ballets, including two based on plays by the Bard.

BRB is featuring a double bill of Sir Frederick Ashton's classic works, which includes his 1964 ballet The Dream, based on Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream, which opens the company's year-long Shakespeare commemoration. The Dream will be paired with the famous choreographer's 1976 ballet A Month In The Country, being performed for the first time by Birmingham Roys. being performed for the first time by Birmingham Royal

The company's spring programme will also feature a revival of Kenneth Macmillan's full length classic ballet Romeo and Juliet.

The Dream and A Month In The Country opened last night (Wednesday) and runs until Saturday. Romeo and Juliet will be presented from February 24 to 27.

Elegant

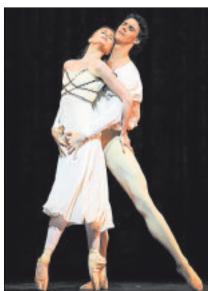

BRB spokeswoman Claire Lishman says: "In The Dream, BKB spokeswoman Claire Lishman says: "In The Dream, love gets out of hand for mortals and fairies alike in an elegant and witty distillation of Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream. Alongside it, we offer A Month In The Country, inspired by Turgenev's play. Ashton captures the mood of the play through exquisite dance in this moving account of unrequired love."

On Romeo and Juliet, Ms Lishman adds: "Love at first dance, forbidden passions, dangerous secrets and fate combine in an exhilarating classic ballet."

Set to Prokofiev's soaring score, Romeo and Juliet tells the familiar tale of two young lovers at the mercy of power-ful families and their own hearts. From the balcony scene's ecstatic pas de deux to the heart-breaking end, Romeo and Juliet has been an audience favourite since its first per-formance 51 years ago, when Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev received 43 curtain calls.

HALSE'I nad an awesome 2015. The singer and songwriter from New Jersey, real name Ashley Nicolette Frangipane, topped polls for best breakthrough act, got to No2 in the US chart with debut album Baldands, was special guest on Justin Bieber's track The Feeling and sold out New York's Justin Bieber's track The Feeling and sold out New York's Madison Square Garden.

Still only 21, the one-girl-phenomenon is about to release her latest track New Americana and perform her first gig in Birmingham, at the O2 Academy on Saturday, as part of a sold-out UK tour. Just two years ago she was playing acoustic cover sets at random bars in the American north-east, having left high school with a desire to become a musician.

Early in 2014 everything changed because of one song, the appropriately haunting Ghost. She says: "Everyone I know in music was like 'the song starts with bridge and it's two minutes and 34 seconds long, you're making a mistake, that's not a single, that's not going to get anyone's attention'." Clearly her 70,000-plus Twitter followers who promptly downloaded it disagreed.

Singers' songs with a message

FANS of singer-songwriters can catch up with some class acts.

Jesse Malin fine tunes songs from his reissued 2002 debut The Fine Art of Self-Destruction at the O2 Institute tonight (Thursday). Then tomorrow Lucy Spraggan plays songs from her We Are album at the O2

Academy, also in Birmingham.
Paul Carrack, of How Long and The Living Years fame, is in concert at the Symphony Hall on Saturday.

Protest singer and acoustic guitar troubadour Will Varley, who has supported The Proclaimers and Frank Turner, is at the Hare and Hounds in Kings Heath on February 25.

Foals galloping to stadium status

OXFORD band Foals play Birmingham Barclaycard Arena tomorrow night (Friday), the success of fourth album What Went Down having propelled them to stadium status. Don't miss support from quirky art-pop outfit Everything Everything. Other highlights include Mystery Jets with songs from sixth and best so far album Curve Of The Earth at the O2 Institute in Digbeth tonight (Thursday).

On Saturday the notorious Fat White Family are at the O2 Institute, the same night Dudley outfit EofE play Wolver-hampton's Slade Rooms. Blur-ryface duo Twenty One Pilots are at O2 Academy on Tuesday.

Stars are out to shine at star-studded bash

he Brits returns to the O2 tonight to bring us a much-needed annual dose of music industry glitter, awkward award presentation and headline-generating performances during the dark days of British winter.

Tonight's headline act is Rihanna, who is back to perform for the fourth time, following the long-awaited release of her eighth album, ANTI.

It's likely that she'll perform her smash-hit single, Work, which topped of the charts in 90 countries.

For the Barbadian singer, it'll give her an opportunity to warm up before her world tour returns to the UK in June; and for her fans, it's the first Brit Awards performance since 2012, when she blew the crowd away with a rendition of We Found Love.

British songstress Adele was the first act to be named on this year's bill, which was considered quite a coup for the organisers.

Back in 2011, she performed a spine-tingling version of Someone Like You, but the year after she made headlines for swearing at "the suits"

her speech short, largely because Blur had bumbled around on stage

Fresh from their half-time show alongside Beyonce at the Superbowl earlier this month, Coldplay will also Chris Martin and co have suggested that their new album, A Head Full of Dreams, may be their last.

But, as they proved in a barnstorming London gig earlier this year, the record sounds as good live as any of their previous work.

Having recently beaten The Beatles' record for having the most singles in the UK top 40 at any one time, Canadian singer Justin Bieber is also sure to to be a hit with the Brits crowd.

sure to to be a hit with the Brits crow.

There will also be performances from Jess Glynne, who rose to success in 2014 after being featured on Clean Bandit's single Rather Be, and James Bay, who won the Critics Choice Award 2015.

Canadian singer-cum-producer The Weeknd and 2011 X-Factor winners Little Mix will also be on stage

Finally, there will a touching tribute to the much-missed David Bowie following his death on January 10.

Bowie was a two-time Brit winner and became the oldest recipient of the Best British Male Solo Artist award two years ago. On the awards front, Adele leads the pack with four nominations for the newly designed trophies.

She will be battling it out for the coveted Album of the Year award alongside Coldplay, Florence + the Machine, James Bay and Jamie XX.

The presenters of the Brits is always a big issue, and we seem to reminisce every year, who can forget Samantha Fox and Mick Fleetwood?

Thankfully this year's ceremony is in good hands as it will be fronted by last year's hosts Ant and Dec.

About returning, the pair said: "We really loved hosting the show last year

"In all honesty we only intended to do it for one year but had such a good time we are thrilled to be doing it again

"We had a great night, enjoyed a glass of champagne or two! So this year... more of the same!"

New series. The comedy returns for a fourth and final series, with the prospect of the real world looming large for the student housemates. JP's brother pays an unexpected visit and tells him it is time to knuckle down, while Howard has created a secret revision den in the cellar. Meanwhile, Oregon attempts to win a prestigious scholarship in America, Vod comes up with a scheme to help with her money troubles, and Kingsley is on the lookout for love, but possibly in all the wrong places.

Cuckoo

BBC1, 10.45pm

After the first series in 2012 the departure of Andy Samberg initially looked to be the end of the line for this show, one of BBC Three's most successful sitcoms. However the writers pulled of a Cuckoo coup when they recruited Taylor Lautner to fill the big-name American gap in season two. This third series opener picks up six months after Dale's dramatic departure during the 2014 Christmas special, and Rachel is still heartbroken, but she has managed to salvage a friendship with her iilted former fiancé Ben. However, just as life is about to return to normal in the Thompson household, a transformed Dale returns from China to shake things up again. Meanwhile, Ken and Lorna are preparing for the birth of their unplanned baby, and son Dylan gets ready to leave for university.

TUESDAY

The Inspectors Are Coming

ITV, 7.30pm Cameras follow UK law enforcement teams, beginning in Cleethorpes where beach inspectors struggle with their new powers to fine as it goes against their usual laid back style. In Dumfries and Galloway, experienced law enforcers Erin and Jim are dishing out £80 penalties to anyone caught dropping a cigarette butt. Meanwhile, in the London borough of Newham, John and Terry face one of their busiest nights ever - could they be about to beat their record for the most number of noise complaints?

WEDNESDAY

The Great Sport Relief Bake Off BBC1, 8pm

Sarah Millican hosts as actress Alison Steadman, comedian Ade Edmondson, singer Will Young and impressionist Morgana Robinson bake for Sport Relief. They must face three challenges set by judges Paul Hollywood and Mary Berry, with the overall winner receiving the coveted Star Baker Apron. For the signature challenge, they must create an open-top pie, before attempting to make a salmon roulade in the technical. Finally, the celebrities must use cupcakes to create a showstopper representing a momentous life experience. Last in the series.

THURSDAY The Great British Sex Survey Channel 4, 10pm

So much for ëno sex please we're British' - Channel 4 has discovered via a specially commissioned survey that UK residents are very much in touch with their sexuality. This programme takes a closer look at the results, revealing the nation's top 10 kinks and lifting the lid on some surprising practices.

and Belgian sexologist Goedele Liekens, explore where unusual sexual desires come from, and investigate why some people only need a come hither look to get them going, while others require something a little more elaborate. The Great British Sex survey also asks just what convinced us to shed our repressed image and start unbuttoning, and hears from the ordinary people who get up to extraordinary things in the bedroom.

Comedy Playhouse: Hospital People BBC1, 10.35pm

The BBC's revived Comedy Playhouse strand is back with three new pilots, all hoping to becoming fully fledged sitcoms. We'll soon see Alun Armstrong and Alison Steadman in Broken Biscuits, written by Early Doors creators Craig Cash and Phil Mealey, while Nigel Havers and Sarah Hadland are teaming up for Jack Docherty's Stop/Start, but we begin with Hospital People. The mockumentary follows a group of characters united by the fact that their lives revolve around the local hospital - and that they are all played by co-writer Tom Binns. His creations include manager Susan Mitchell, spiritualist porter lan D Montfort, and someone who will be familiar to fans of Binns' stand-up, deluded DJ Ivan Brackenbury.

that's one happy customer to start with.
It was straightforward choice from our dining companion, too – but then when does a teenage girl ever make a fuss? At least she pored through what was on offer before deciding on her favourite tikka masala.

We were treated to a special platter starter to begin with, including chicken pakora, korahi kebab and moglai chicken — the latter, chicken marinated with garam masala and yoghurt and cooked with pepper, onions and garlic, was divine, but then so was the unexpected lamb shank we were served ahead of our starters.

Of course, there was little room for much else, but I still had to try my sea bass jhall fry main course. The fish was beautifully cooked and it had a hidden kick to it. But mixed with the lemon rice accommaniment

Tiny tweaks make great product even better

By Ian Donaldson

You know a car is important to its maker when the first 25 pages of the info pack for road testers is all about the vehicle's heritage. Only then do you arrive at today's machine.

Which in this case is the latest version of the car that means perhaps more than anything to BMW the 3 Series.

More than 14 million of them have been sold since the first one appeared as a modestly sized sporty saloon in

Today, around one in four BMWs sold around the world

So its continuing success, against ever stronger opposition (Jaguar's XE is the latest) could not be more important for the Bavarian car maker.

And that means you tinker with the basics at your peril. Much more sensible to advance in small steps, making successive models a bit faster, slightly more economical and making sure there are enough versions to tempt the maximum number of potential buyers.

Pole

Which, in the case of UK 3 Series buyers, means at least 112 different types to consider, from modest rear-wheel drive petrol models to big diesel bruisers with allwheel drive and enough attitude to take pole position in the company car park.

That's before you take in the list of possible options. Always a German car maker's speciality, you can go crazy with the tick boxes and end up with something like the car on test.

It was laden with an extraordinary £12,010 worth of options. Decide that after all you could live without a front armrest with sliding adjustment and already you've clawed back £45 (and every little helps).

You don't of course, have to take any of the options, although you won't see many 3 Series without metallic paint (£645) and heated front seats (£325) ought to be standard

But back to the car itself; put it next to a just superseded version and you'd need to be a BMW anorak to spot the difference.

Tiny changes to air intakes and lights are the signs, while inside you might spot a bit of high gloss black – and cup holders with a sliding cover.

Economy

Under the bonnet all the petrol engines and most of the diesels are new to the 3 Series, with useful gains in economy and emissions the result.

BMW knows it has to maintain its reputation as a maker of cars with a sporty feel and its engineers worry about the details, to the extent that the front suspension now uses five bolts to hold it to the body instead of three

That means less distortion and a purer feel when you're

Which you may want to do in a car like the model on test. Slipping into the hip-hugging front seats (a part of the £2,500 you pay for the M Sport package) you know instantly that BMW sweats the details.

So the pedals are in precisely the right place, the instru-ments big, bold and easily read and there's a general air of sober sense and lots of well applied black.

You might find the stiffened suspension a bit grumbly over poor road surfaces but the poise and balance of the car is compensation enough.

The eight-speed auto box comes into its own when you feel less like a potential F1 entrant – perhaps on the way home after a hard day at the office when nothing went right.

We all have days like that; the 3 Series driver is better positioned than most to cope with them.

High-riding Hyundai i20 has dash of trendiness

Hyundai's i20 Active model brings a dash of crossover trendiness to the i20 supermini range. Put simply, what we've got here is an i20 on stilts. Ride height had been increased, the seats are mounted higher inside and 50 per cent of the exterior has been changed in making this compact crossover. It also benefits from the latest 1.0 litre turbocharged engines to really take the fight to the Euro-

Hyundai hasn't needed to do a vast amount in turning the i20 hatchback into the i20 Active.

Apart from jacking it up a little and adding some 4x4 in-spired styling cues, it's much the same as before.

That isn't an issue however. There were plenty of reasons to recommend the i20 before and they're all still there in

The only difference is that those of you that like the idea of a crossover might be tempted if you weren't previously.

Handling

Hyundai worked hard to increase the rigidity of the second generation i20's bodyshell, helping ride, handling and safety.

To create the Active version, Hyundai has taken this shell and changed 50 per cent of the exterior body parts to create a much more rugged-looking vehicle.

There's an increase in ride height, different bumpers from and rear with integrated skid plates, plus round foglights a each end of the car.

In profile, you might notice the addition of side rubbing strips along the bottom of the doors, black plastic wheelarch extensions plus black plastic cladding of an interesting tex-

Inside you get higher mounted seats that hopefully won't reduce headroom too much but do promise improved er gonomics.

Finishing things off are a smart set of metal pedals and the option of 'Tangerine Orange' for elements of the interior.

It should be noted that the i20 is larger inside than many rivals and also offers an impressively big 326-litre boot much bigger than the class average.

Overall, this Korean crossover is practical, well made good value and very well equipped. Just as you would expect a Korean car to be

Hot hatch Focus RS lives up to the legend

By Ed Wiseman

We've seen the photos. We remember the legends. We've slurped thirstily at every droplet of info that leaks from the Ford PR machine. But does the Focus RS live up to the legend?

The Focus RS is a blue-collar hero. Since its introduction in 2002, the RS - which stands for 'Rallye Sport' – has been the halo model for fast Ford fans in the UK. It's a nod to legendary cars like the RS1600 and the Sierra Cosworth, both of which were attainable and immensely quick.

Prices for this car start at just under £30,000, and its driving dynamics and sheer power would challenge cars costing three times that.

It's all-wheel-drive, it hits 62mph in 4.7 seconds, and it sounds like an angry lion. Ridiculous. This is the kind of car you could fall in love with - and then lease for £299 a month from your nearest Ford dealer.

It's pretty subtle until you notice the more aggressive bodywork, the spoiler above the rear windscreen, and the sculpted front and rear. The launch colour is Nitrous Blue, which accounts for most of the orders currently placed, but opting for a quieter colour will create an understated 'sleep-

Ford has used some interior space to build a unique all-wheel-drive system. You lose around 60 litres from the (already mediocre) boot, and the standard seats are bulky and eat into rear passenger legroom. Splash out on the shell seats for a more comfortable cabin.

Despite being a performance-oriented car, the RS has all the mod cons you'd expect. A couple of 12v charging sock ets up front, loads of stowage space, and some USB ports

Brilliant

Ford has built a brilliant driver's car. They even have a metric for how 'fun' it is to rev the engine (very), and they teamed up with stunt driver and internationally-renowned boy racer Ken Block to make a car that you can mess

The RS has four main driving modes. Normal, Sport, Track and Drift. If those last two words don't excite you, then you should probably stop reading, as the RS isn't for you. 'Drift' mode enables you to drive sideways in a cloud of tyre smoke. The amount of technology that has gone into creating this preposterous toy is staggering, especially considering it has no real-world application outside a deserted carpark at 2am. It's huge fun and very controllable, artificially creating predictable oversteer.

'Track' mode is where the RS really shines. Built to flatter amateurs and satisfy professionals, it really does make you look good on the track - ham-fisted driving is smoothed out by the car's powerful computer.

If you want track day success, but lack talent, this could be the car for you.

That's not to say it's for beginners. If you know what you're doing, you'll be able to get the most out this perfor-mance Ford – and goodness me, it's capable.

It costs around £30,000, going up to £33,000 if you tick

For this you get one of the best-handling cars currently for sale, and the most versatile performance hatchback ever. All in a sensible, five-door, family car package that you can use every day.

Anyone who wants everyday driving fun and has £30,000 to spend on it should buy this car. You can drive it like a vanilla Focus for the most part, but every other Saturday, this family wagon will turn into a monster on the track. If you're the kind of person to occasionally take a longer, twistier, more interesting route home, then this is the car for you.

This car summed up in a single word: Bonkers.
If this car was a: weapon it would be a sawn-off Purdey.
Impressive craftsmanship, repurposed for use by ruffians.

No more fear of the shopping trolleys!

By Sharon Walters

The Citroën Cactus may have an unusually quirky image but it's a joy to drive and offers excellent fuel economy.

We shouldn't have been surprised when the rather unusual Citroën Cactus arrived on our streets. Looking a little like a chunky child's toy or something from Thunderbirds, it follows on from all those great quirky cars that the French company used to give us.

In the past it was a company that dared to be different and brought us very individual car's like the DS, 2CV (remember the one with the soft top?), the SM, the CX and the BX. And not so long ago the Xantia Activa, the C6 and the C4. They weren't always successes but we certainly remember them, if only for their looks.

Now we have the Cactus and and its timing couldn't have been better. Let's face it, crossover vehicles had become so popular they had moved from the alternative to a comforta-

We now have a crossover that looks unlike any other vehicle on the roads, with its Airbump side cladding and a shed-load of other bold details.

A large panoramic sunroof features a state-of-the-art coating to filter UV light and reflect heat, and fills the cabin with diffused light.

Unique to the C4 Cactus and an instantly recognisable feature of the model is Citroën's new Airbump technology. Fitted to the front and rear doors, the tough air-filled TPU (thermoplastic polyurethane) capsules protect against minor bumps and scrapes.

Airbump panels do not need specific maintenance and reduce the stress and expense associated with car park dings and dents - cutting service and repair costs over the lifetime of the car.

While the interior looks uncluttered and without much in the way of technology, there is an awful lot discreetly placed. Fitted as standard, the fully digital Touch Drive interface features a 7-inch touchscreen to control all the main vehicle

These include automatic air conditioning, media (DAB ra-dio, audio streaming, mobile connections, music and photo storage), navigation (map view, speed limit display, traffic conditions, fuel-efficient routing), driving aids (reversing camera, park assist, speed limiter/cruise control), telephone (hands-free via Bluetooth, contacts, call management), connected services and vehicle settings.

It takes a while to get to grips with but once mastered the interface is excellent. Plus, there are some shortcut keys on either side of the main screen for practicality.

There is also a range of innovative aids available, including park assist to get into spaces and a reversing camera which displays the rear view and guidelines on the touch-

Designed to reduce the cost of ownership throughout the life of the vehicle, the C4 Cactus's multi-award-winning features include a lightweight design, impressive fuel economy of up to 91.1mpg and excellent fuel emissions.

The car is offered with six efficient powertrains, four petrol

- PureTech 75, PureTech 82, PureTech 82 S&S and Pure-Tech 110 S&S – and two HDi diesels – e-HDi 92 and BlueHDi

Engines are mated to either five-speed manual or five or six-speed ETG (Efficient Tronic Gearbox) transmissions. All diesels are sub-100g/km of CO2 and are eligible for free car tax. There is even a tax-exempt petrol version – the PureTech 82 S&S ETG - which emits just 98a/km.

While I was a little unsure about the looks, its economy and comfort won me over.

Suzuki perfect for 21st century

Commercial feature

One of the leading independent automotive retailers in the Midlands, Autosales Ltd has represented Suzuki for more than two decades and you'll find it hard to find a dealership with as much experience of the brand and its products.

With a range of low emission, extremely economical models that are low-cost to run, Suzuki also offers affordable cars perfect for 21st century motoring. Latest models include the impressive new Vitara, the ultra-frugal Celario city car and the superb SX4 S-Cross crossover. Suzuki prices currently begin at only £6,999 for the Celerio, and there are always enticing offers available across the Suzuki range.

Right now, Celerio SZ2 models come with a free alloy wheel upgrade, plus the sleek Swift SZ-L is available with zero per cent APR* representative finance. And, there's no need to pay a deposit. What's more, you can gain free satellite navigation. In addition to all this, the excellent Suzuki SX4 S-Cross is available with low rate (2.9* percent APR representative) finance together with a generous deposit contribution of £2.000 from Suzuki.

Celerio

If you want a car that is utterly no-nonsense, easy to use and which will prove to be extremely reliable, the Celerio demonstrates that these qualities needn't cost you the earth. The fact that it's well-equipped and is incredibly cheap to run is just the icing on the cake.

In Dualjet form, this Suzuki combined-cycle fuel consumption improves to 78.5mpg, while the CO2 return is enhanced to 84g/km. That makes such a Celerio the cleanest and most fuel-efficient new car on sale for less than £10,000.

New Vitara

The Vitara. Suzuki's latest compact crossover, aims to build a lot of talent into four metres. With a choice of petrol or diesel, front or all-wheel drive and styling that's more assured than anything Suzuki has brought us before, it a very competitive proposition. Standard equipment for all Vitara competitive proposition. Sandard equipment for all vitaria models is comprehensive and also includes seven airbags, alloy wheels and front and rear electric windows. Suzuki's latest ALLGRIP four-wheel drive technology is standard equipment on the recently introduced S model and available as an option on SZ5 models.

Autosales Ltd has been a successful family-owned business for more than 50 years. In overall charge of the company is managing director Steve Kibble and his sister, company secretary Debbie Varnish, who strive with all the Autosales staff to ensure that each and every customer receives the best possible service right across the group.

Autosales Ltd has represented Suzuki for more than two decades and you'll find it hard to find a company with as much experience of the brand and its products.

Autosales Suzuki in Cannock offers full Suzuki dealer facilities including new cars, a broad mix of superbly-prepared used cars, including Suzukis, competitive, tailored finance, Suzuki-authorised aftersales care plus servicing, repairs and MoTs for all makes and models.

With all this in mind, why not check out the outstanding Suzuki range at Autosales Suzuki on Progress Drive, Bridgtown, Cannock WS11 0JE. You'll find some terrific offers in time for the forthcoming new registration, so telephone 01543 431360 to find out more.

Autosales also represents Suzuki at Vulcan Road, Bilston WV14 7JW. You can call the friendly sales team there on 01902 402233, or visit www.autosalesgroup.co.uk/pages/ suzuki for further details.

New Sportage prices start at under £18,000

Kia has announced pricing and specifications for the fourth-generation of its best-selling model in the UK, the stylish Sportage crossover.

There are 18 variants on offer priced from just £17,995 on the road. For the first time GT-Line versions add an even more sporty flourish to the range, while the line-up is headed by the luxurious First Edition model, priced at £31,645. GT-Line models start at £24,350. The new Sportage is now on sale.

The new Sportage brings major advances in fuel efficiency, comfort, connectivity, convenience and safety.

The acclaimed styling of a model which sells as much on its looks as on its practicality has been subtly modernised and every model benefits from a more premium look and feel to the interior.

There are now four engines and three transmissions with the introduction of a 1.6-litre T-GDi (turbocharged gasoline direct injection) unit and a 7DCT (seven-speed) dual-clutch automatic) gearbox, both of which are reserved exclusively for GT-Line. They join extensively re-engineered 1.6-litre GDi petrol and 1.7- and 2.0-litre turbodiesel power units with improved fuel economy and CO2 reductions of up to 29g/km, which means significantly lower company car tax for the Sportage's loyal business drivers.

The six trim lines are badged 1, 2, 3, 4, GT-Line and First Edition.

All versions powered by the 1.6-litre GDi and 1.7-litre CRDi engines are front-wheel drive, while those powered by the 1.6-litre have all-wheel drive.

Four-wheel-drive versions are distinguished by the 'KX' prefix in the model designation – except for GT-Line and First Edition versions Connectivity and advanced driver aids are a pre-requisite in any car these days and the Sportage will not disappoint. All versions except the entry-level grade have a 7- or 8-inch touch-screen satellite navigation system linked to Kia Connected Services with TomTom®, providing full European mapping and detailed traffic, speed camera, weather and local services information. Up the range, speed limit information, lane keep assist, high beam assist, autonomous emergency braking and blind spot detection with rear cross traffic alert are available.

All versions are well equipped with ar extensive package of comfort, convenience and safety items.

Even 'base' model Grade 1/KX-1 comes equipped, with 16-inch alloy wheels and all-round disc brakes, a black diamond-mesh grille with chromed surround, front foglights, LED daytime running lamps, cornering lights, chrome-coated belt-line mouldings, smart black cloth upholstery with a grey headlining, electrically adjusta-ble door mirrors, leather-trimmed steering wheel and gearshift, all electric windows, air conditioning, DAB radio, Bluetooth with music streaming, USB and AUX ports, 12-volt power outlet in ront and rear, trailer stability assist, hill-start assist, downhill brake control and cruise control with speed

They say there is a reason, they say that time will heal. But neither time or reason will change the way I feel.

We love you and miss you Mom, what more is there to sav.

Except I wish with all my heart, that you were here today.

Loving Son. Melvyn and Anne.

Tips to chip away at your score from Chase Golf Club, passes on some handy hints to improve your game.

hints to improve your game.

Chipping is a major part of the game that is often overlooked by most golfers. If you miss a green and hit a poor chip, it will almost certainly result in a dropped shot or even two. Improving your chipping can be one of the biggest areas of your game to lower your scores.

For most golfers, practice sessions take place on the range, perfecting their long game. It is much more enjoyable for most firing drives up the range and paying no many shots you play during a round of golf from within 80 yards of the green? And how often do you practise your short game com-pared your longer game?

Here are my simple steps for playing the perfect set up for a chip.

1. Aim the club as normal but don't forget to read the green and allow for any contours on the putting surface. Your target line will not always be from your ball to the flag. Align yourself as you would for a normal shot, but withdraw your left foot slightly to enable you to achieve a good impact position. Narrow your stance slightly and ensure that the ball is positioned in line with the centre of your stance.
 Take your regular grip of the club, but placing your hands lower down on the grip for increased control.

You should notice a slight shaft lean towards the target with your hands slightly in front of the club head.

During the swing it is important to main-

During the swing it is important to maintain the angles of your club shaft. You can do this by keeping your wrists locked in position with no movement during the swing. When swinging, feel that your club head does not overtake your hands. Your weight should remain on your left side throughout the swing ensuring you achieve a nice and consistent ball strike.

Pitmen in need of some home help

TWO second-half goals proved enough for the visitors as Hednesford Town continue to search for their first home victory of 2016.

Pitmen boss Frank Sinclair made five changes to his starting XI, one of which was enforced due to Kyle Perry's suspension.

In came George Cleet for his debut, Phil Trainer, Tom Thorley, Tom Peers and Danny Glover

Trainer, Tom Thorley, Tom Peers and Danny Glover.

It was a lively opening start from both sides as Town goalkeeper Dan Crane was called into action twice to deny Jamie Yates and Nathan Jarman while Tom Thorley volleyed just wide for Hednesford at the other end.

After an encouraging start for the Pitmen, battling to avoid the drop from National League North, they almost took the lead in the 12th minute.

The ball was cleared off the line by Gainsborough's Stephen Brogan after it had deflected off a Trinity team-mate following a corner from the left.

The lively Jarman then saw a speculative long-range effort fly wide of the post before the visitors appealed for a spot-kick when Simon Russell went down inside the penalty area at a corner kick – something the officials waved away.

Parried

Five minutes before the break there was a letoff for the home side. With an open goal in front of him, Jake Picton couldn't stretch enough to turn the ball home at the back post.
A minute later Hednesford striker Peers found half a yard on the edge of the box and his driven effort was parried away by former Wolves goalkeeper Jan Budtz in the Gainsborough nets for

This would prove to be crucial as Trinity scored

After Crane had made two smart saves, a resulting corner eventually found its way to Picton who was able to prod home from six yards out.

A fruitless journey for Burntwood

Cleobury Mortimer 57 Burntwood 10 – Midlands 3 West North BURNTWOOD endured another fruitless contest against Shropshire opposition. After a promising half hour when they should have scored at least one try, they should have scored at least one try, possibly two, they conceded three tries in the 10-minute period up to half time. The first chance went to Neil Holden. Facing the last defender he chose to chip and chase rather than back himself with ball in hand but the ball ran dead. Then Tony Davies failed to find skipper Ben Holt with a pass which would have put him away.

Holt with a pass which would have perhim away.

For the third opportunity, Holt sped towards the right corner but a last ditch tackle brought him down close to the line. During this opening half hour, the hosts had opened the scoring with a penalture.

A tap and go penalty on the visitors' 22 was moved left and the winger rolled over in the corner and a fine conversion made it 10-0.

Their second try followed a re-set scrum and their third converted try originated from a catch and drive in the left corner.

Merry Dance spot on for Scholars

Chasetown 1 Goole AFC 1

JAMES Dance was on the spot to give Chasetown a point in Evo-Stik Division One South. The Scholars ended the game with 10 men.

Lowly Goole took the lead midway through the half when Aaron Moxham stole in at the far post to net a free header.

Chasetown's Simon Brown fizzed a low shot at goal which was blocked for a corner before Paul Sullivan clipped the top of the Goole crossbar.

Jono Gould was a whisker away from a headed equaliser from a Rhys Thompson cross as the home side continued to press. On the stroke of half-time, visiting keeper Dan Waring made a point-blank save to deny Gould's volley.

On the hour Chasetown drew level when Alex War-ley dived in on substitute Nick Turton and conceded a penalty which Dance confidently despatched.

Bob Johnson's long-range effort was superbly pushed aside by Scholars keeper John Bateman on a rare attack for the east Yorkshire side midway through the second period.

E PENA DENIES PITM

Hednesford Town 1 North Ferriby 1

HEDNESFORD Town suffered last-minute heartbreak Tuesday night after North Ferriby United scored an equalising penalty in the 95th minute.

It was an open start to the game with the home defence making two vital blocks before Shelton Payne, later to give Hednesford the lead, fired over at the other end.

The Pitmen, fighting relegation from the National League North, went on to grab the opening goal in the 18th minute when a cross into the box wasn't dealt with and Payne slammed home from 12 vards out.

In the 32nd minute the visiting side's Danny Clarke forced Hednesford keeper Dan Crane into a comfortable save with the half offering little else in the terms of chances.

On the hour mark Crane was called into action once more to deny Clarke again before the midfielder floated a free-kick over the crossbar.

Stoppage

A big chance arrived for Frank Sinclair's side to wrap up the win in the 74th minute when a free-kick found Albion loanee Jack Fitzwater but he poked the ball wide at the back post.

After seemingly playing out time, the referee awarded a penalty to Ferriby for a handball decision seemingly over the allotted stoppage time limit.
